1. RAIN WATER HARVESTING (RWH)

Rain water harvesting plays a very crucial role in terms of water and energy conservation. Rain water harvesting plays a very crucial role in terms of water and energy conservation. In SBPCOAD, during the rainy season, whichever water is collected on terrace is brought down through down take pipe and redirected to filtration tank. Filtered tank water is used to recharge the bore well. If there is Excess water, it is redirected to natural stream which is flowing through campus.

2. BOREWELL RECHARGE:

SBPCOAD Campus has a good water table because of adjacent Ganesh Lake. Water table on campus is placed three feet deep. With the use of bore well, underground water is lifted and is used for various purposes such as Gardening, toilet usage, etc. in campus. Total three borewells are equipped within the campus.

3. MAINTENANCE OF WATER BODIES AND DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM IN CAMPUS

Ganesh Lake is located adjacent to the college campus. It is a percolation tank. Overflow water stream from Ganesh Reservoir flows through campus. For the proper flow of stream, RCC Channel is constructed in campus and proper slope is also provided so as to ease continuous movement of water. This water is redirected through channels for the landscaping area throughout the campus.

This natural stream is covered with net made of Mild Steel (MS) material to avoid accidents as well as it helps to keep it clean.

This stream is regularly cleaned, every alternate Saturday when college campus is closed. All the water storage tanks in the premises are also regularly cleaned and are maintained by strictly following the maintenance schedule.

There is dedicated Maintenance Committee who is continuously monitoring the college infrastructure and water conservation facilities, landscaping, etc.

Water purifiers along with water coolers (30 no.) are provided in institute campus buildings. The maintenance of these water purifiers is done by an external agency at regular intervals on Annual Maintenance Contract (AMC) basis.
